Eighth graders from La Grange Highlands School dig puck out of snow at midpoint of marathon hockey game that ended Sunday after 53½ hours. (Trib photo)

Boys Survive Cold, Set Ice Hockey Record

It took 32 gallons of hot chocolate, 400 cans of pop, 12 pounds of hamburger and sloppy joes, another 12 pounds of bacon, 12 dozen eggs and innumerable doughnuts, cookies and cakes, but the eighth graders of Highland Junior High School in La Grange made it.

Maybe survived it would be better.

Last Friday 24 youths began a marathon hockey game at the all Grange Highlands Community Center outdoor rink, and Sunday night at 7:30, after surpassing the marathon mark set by a similar group last year, the boys stepped off the rink after 53½ hours of continuous hockey.

But the real story of the marathon was the weather. Never did temperatures rise above five degrees below zero, as measured at the rink. And Saturday night the wind-chill factor dropped to 44 below.

The boys had begun to lose their enthusiasm that afternoon, and stopped keeping score when the Bruins led the Hawks by something like 600 to 400. But Saturday night, when the mercury dropped and some parents suggested calling it off, the boys switched to half-hour skating shifts, and altho two retired sick and a couple quit, 18 skated all the way.

Once the record was broken, tho, few wanted to extend it.
